THE RISE OF TREE TOP ADVENTURES 🌳

Treetop adventures go by many names: Challenge Course, Ropes Course, Team Course, Aerial Adventure, but all share the same purpose: challenging personal and team development in an outdoor setting.

Where did it come from? Many believe the concept originally came from military training used by the ancient Greeks. Pretty neat! Fast-forward to modern courses established in the '80s: rope courses have advanced significantly in safety, technology, and accessibility.

Here's what to expect: As you take on the challenge, you'll find yourself in the trees, typically at least 30 feet above the ground. You'll climb cargo nets, walk hanging bridges, and even zipline through certain sections. Most courses take between 1 and 3 hours to complete, and going with a friend or group makes the experience even more fun. Most aerial adventure courses are built for all ages, so don't let fear hold you back.
